George Alexander is an artist who's captivating paint style creates thought-provoking artwork. His imagery stems from his view of the world as he wishes it to be. His work is often seen with astronauts and animals.

In 2015, Alexander graduated with a bachelor of fine arts from the Institute of the American Indian Arts in Santa Fe, NM. He then pursued a master of fine arts at the Studio Art College International (SACI) in Florence, Italy. The opportunity to engage in the culture of others helped him develop an even deeper appreciation for his own. Alexander graduated in 2019 and his artwork can be viewed at Rain Maker Gallery in Bristol, UK; King Galleries in Santa Fe, NM; and Accaventi Qattro Home Gallery in Prato, Italy.

Alexander is continuing his passion for art as he hopes to grow his techniques along with other mediums such as sculpture and jewelry. You can view his work on Instagram by searching @NDGNS_STUDIO where you can view the latest of his paintings.
