

KARIN WALKINGSTICK

Tribal Affiliation: Cherokee

Contact Exhibit C Native Gallery & Gifts for pricing

Karin Walkingstick is a potter from Claremore, Oklahoma. Her passion for art began at an early age. Throughout her life she has explored many forms of creative expression but since her introduction to clay in 2013, she has committed her time exclusively to creating one-of-a-kind works of pottery using techniques that echo her Cherokee culture. All of her pieces are hand coiled and stone burnished.

Karin participates in Native American art markets such as the Santa Fe Indian Market in Santa Fe, New Mexico, the Heard Museum Indian Fair and Market in Phoenix, Arizona and the Cherokee Art Market in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

1. "Dragon Fly Vase" / Pottery / 4H x 4.25W
2. "Rabbit Rattle" / Pottery / 3.5H x 5W
3. "Turtle" / Pottery / 2.5H x 4.5W
4. "Rabbit Rattle" / 3.5H x 5W
5. "Turtle Rattle" / 3.5H x 7W
6. "Turtle Rattle" / 3.5H x 7W
7. "Squash Rattle" / 2.75H x 2.5W

